Historical Context and Publication

Origins and Publishing History

Leo Tolstoy began working on Anna Karenine in the early 1870s, with the novel finally completed in 1877. Its publication was initially serialized in the periodical The Russian Messenger, which was a common practice for major novels of the time, allowing for public engagement and anticipation. The serialized format also influenced the narrative pacing and structure.

The novel was subsequently published in two volumes—hence the phrase “in two volumes”—a format that became the standard for many literary works of the period, offering a manageable way for readers to consume this expansive story.
