This article aims to provide a comprehensive review of the 2015 RDO calendar, contextualize its significance, and analyze its implications for stakeholders involved.

Understanding the CFMEU RDO Concept

What is an RDO?

An RDO, or Rostered Day Off, is a predetermined day off scheduled for employees working in industries such as construction, mining, and forestry, where long working hours are common. These days are typically arranged within a work roster that balances productivity demands with workers' well-being. RDOs serve as a vital mechanism to:

- Reduce fatigue among workers

- Facilitate better workforce planning for employers

In the context of the CFMEU, RDOs are negotiated clauses within enterprise agreements, ensuring that members' rights to regular days off are protected and systematically scheduled.

Legal and Collective Agreement Foundations

The RDO system operates under the framework of industrial awards and enterprise agreements. Specifically, for construction workers affiliated with CFMEU, RDO arrangements are often specified within project-specific agreements or the Building and Construction General On-site Award. These agreements stipulate:

- The frequency of RDOs (e.g., weekly, fortnightly)
- Conditions for substitution or accrual
